Home	Welcome!
Mission Statement	Whether you are an adult student starting or returning to piano or harp lessons or a parent who wishes to give your child the gift of music, you have come to the right place. If you have the desire to learn and to make a commitment to practice, you can learn to play the piano or harp beautifully. I believe as humans we need music in our lives. I love making music! Piano is such a practical instrument to learn as you can do so much with it and piano (and harp!) players are in great need! I love teaching piano and harp and I am dedicated to helping my students reach their musical goals.
