Features: Notes on the style and/or genre of the piece.

- The pieces are homophonic .
- The first piece, “Um sonho” is in C major. According to the composer, the most important task for the student should be the work on tone. It is in a slow tempo, with the continued resonance of the notes through the pedal.
- The second piece, “Um olhar” is in A minor with a 3/4 time signature and a tempo similar to a valse. The form is A A´ and, according to the composer, it also requires work on tone.
- The third piece, “Um Sorriso”, according to the composer is similar to a Russian dance and should communicate a smile of joy, admiration, and care.

Compare: Pieces that are comparable in level and style from the standard repertoire.

- 24 Pieces for Children, Op. 39, by Kabalevsky
